

Mainstreaming experience undertaken by PANORAMED Project

Kim-Anne KENNIBOL

Project officer, Department for Euro-Mediterranean cooperation
Region Sud- FRANCE

PANORAMED Mainstreaming experimentation

- Objective = test the possibility to transfer the results of European Territorial Cooperation projects to other programmes and Mediterranean public policies.
- Methodology

TAKERS

Public authorities willing to use outputs produced by ETC projects to improve public policies

GIVERS

Projects partners who produce these outputs and transfer them to the takers

3 steps

1. To identify relevant and valuable project results (GIVERS)
2. To identify potential TAKERS as key partners based on a mapping of competences and priorities.
3. To bring together "takers/givers" and deliver an action plan for the transfer process.

- Key lessons and recommendations : here

What has been mainstreamed so far?

GREECE : Ministry of Maritime Affairs and Insular Policy – Special service of EU Fund management	➡ Update of the National WEB-GIS platform dedicated to maritime surveillance
ITALY : Emilia Romagna Region- Department in charge of EU programmes coordination	➡ Contribution du 21-27 ERDF programme (tourism activities)
ITALY : Puglia region in cooperation with Albani and Montenegro Authorities	➡ Contribution du 21-27 Interreg, National and regional programmes (sustainable tourism)
SPAIN: Valencia Region	➡ Transfer of sustainable tourism practices to municipalities of the Valencia region (efficient building and water management)
FRANCE : Region Sud – European affairs Directorate and Valberg area	➡ Improvement of the activities of nearby valley areas (local communities) with sustainable tourism development strategies and tools (new hiking geological tourism package)
SLOVENIA : Gouvernement office, Unit in charge of EU programmes	➡ Contribution to the revision of the Slovenian Smart specialization strategy and adapting national tourism strategy

Thank you for your attention

Kim-Anne KENNIBOL- kakennibol@maregionsud.fr

